

STAY CONNECTED TO EVENTS, INSIGHTS AND INNOVATIONS

AME makes it easy to stay connected with the latest industry knowledge and best practices. Our members have access to a variety of publications and resources that are instrumental in steering their organizations toward enterprise excellence and their careers toward success.

Target Magazine

Target magazine is the official publication of AME. Published six times annually, the magazine focuses on industry best practices and innovation in the workplace. Target is a key resource for becoming more competitive in the global marketplace. Target online (target.ame.org) also provides a wealth of information including current and previous issues that can be downloaded for immediate review or future reference.

Sharing Excellence

Sharing Excellence is AME's biweekly electronic newsletter that provides members with the latest Association news, events and important industry information.

Additionally, special regional event communications keep you abreast of the latest workshops and seminars in your area.

AME.org

The AME website provides a centralized location to connect to information and events that will help you achieve enterprise excellence. Bookmark ame.org to stay abreast of your membership benefits, learn about AME events, and access important news and information.

AMEConnect—Social Networking

AME's social networking site, AMEConnect (connect.ame.org) is an easy and convenient way for members to stay connected. Featuring member-friendly tools such as e-groups, resource libraries, and blogs, AMEConnect allows members and prospective members to freely submit, collaborate and communicate online. The site enables regional boards, committees, and communities of practice to easily and effectively work together.
