

CONNECT WITH THE LEADERS OF ENTERPRISE EXCELLENCE

Members of the Association for Manufacturing Excellence (AME) come together to work toward the common goal of achieving enterprise excellence and advancing their careers. Our members share experiences and mentor each other to become strong and successful leaders within their respective organizations.

Networking

Learning from each other through networking is one of AME's premier membership benefits. Our numerous networking opportunities allow members to get answers from other members who have "been there, done that" and succeeded. As a result, members gain special insights on solutions to make their personal and enterprise excellence goals achievable.

Champion's Club

The Champion's Club is a unique AME membership opportunity for senior executives. Club members receive exclusive invitations to four annual meetings where key industry topics are discussed and noted authorities weigh in with the latest thinking. Through these exclusive events, members learn state-of-the-art management techniques, build key relationships and develop skills that help them effectively lead their organizations within the competitive global marketplace.

The AME Institute

Established in 2008, the AME Institute has the goal of providing scholarship funds for worthy students to attend AME's International Lean Conference and experience such events as the Lean Accounting Summit held in 2008 and 2009. AME members need young men and women to be exposed to the Lean movement, to learn about the pursuit of excellence and consider the benefits of a career in manufacturing operations as they become the leaders of our manufacturing futures.

The AME Institute will also sponsor research on the latest state-of-the-art techniques for process improvements as well as academic research like the Government Procurement Accounting Study that is already underway.

Alliance Partners

AME has established numerous alliance agreements with other industry associations and organizations that are dedicated to continuous improvement and the pursuit of excellence. These alliances allow AME members to take advantage of special discounts for joint memberships, attend additional events at a reduced cost that are devoted to operational excellence, and network with an even larger community of industry executives.
