

Sponsorship = Leadership

An AME sponsor will help AME and its members promote practitioner-to-practitioner learning and inspire a commitment to excellence. Having sponsors for major events is a mutually beneficial way for companies to gain visibility with a significant number of potential customers while supporting a higher cause in the area of the host city. They are a means for AME to reduce the breakeven point of an event and keep fees low.

You and your company will gain exposure to dozens of executives, senior operations experts and plant engineers, who are experts in lean/continuous improvement and enterprise excellence.

Our sponsors are aligned with the premier summit for lean/continuous improvement and enterprise excellence.

You will be proud to have your company affiliated with the Association for Manufacturing Excellence. Invite your customers and suppliers to attend the summit so they can learn how to accelerate their own continuous improvement journeys.

Exhibitor

The AME 2020 Atlanta Lean Summit has a successful feature for a second year. On Monday evening, we will have a networking reception that will also allow exhibitors an opportunity share their products with those attending the summit.

The AME 2020 Atlanta Lean Summit cordially invites you to join us to exhibit your products and services and work together to build a stronger, more vibrant community of continuous improvement practitioners.

As an exhibitor, you and your company will gain exposure to dozens of executives, senior operations experts and plant engineers who are experts in lean, continuous improvement and enterprise excellence. Take advantage of this highly targeted audience to meet key people working together to advance the industry.
